

Engage

Companies committed to disability inclusion as part of their overall talent and workforce strategy can advance their initiatives with trusted guidance from the National Organization on Disability (NOD).

JOIN: Leadership Council

As a member, you will benefit from customized support and resources from NOD experts, empowering you to drive meaningful progress toward your goals. The experience is adaptable, designed to meet you at any stage—from strategy development to optimization. Get one-on-one guidance from your NOD Relationship Manager, an in-depth review of your practices, and much more. Engage in networking opportunities, where you can share insights on your employment accessibility journey. Your contribution to the Leadership Council is also recognized for championing disability workforce inclusion, by supporting our impactful initiatives in policy, research, and innovation.

PARTICIPATE: Events

Invite your employees and interact with peers at one of our upcoming branded webinars or annual live events (next event is September, 2024 in New York City). Broaden both your perspective and your network.

Our online webinars feature NOD experts, thought leaders, researchers, academics and provocateurs from both the private and public sectors. Topics have ranged from mental health and neurodiversity, to veterans with disabilities and the latest data about effective disability inclusion practices in the workplace. Our September 26th live event, Diversity & the Disability Experience, will feature a VIP pre-event and an evening panel discussion. Stay tuned!

CHOOSE: Workforce Solutions

Discover your strengths and weaknesses through an in-depth analysis of your NOD Employment Tracker™ results and the services to meet your needs.

Train your team to create a respectful, equitable workplace for people with disabilities through sessions with a variety of themes and many audiences, from entry-level employees to C-level executives.

Launch a hiring engagement: a full policy, materials, and workplace review to understand your unique workforce needs and connect you with the experts to identify qualified, skilled talent to fill your positions.